There are two types of people in the world: those who are part of the solution and those who are part of the problem. The first group is made up of individuals who are committed to the well-being of the community and who work together to address the challenges we face. The second group consists of those who are self-centered and who do not care for anyone but themselves. It is the duty of those in the first group to identify and address the actions of the second group. We must not allow the few to undermine the work of the many. Together, we can create a better future for all.
