

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

The International Conference on Sustainable Development was held in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in June 1992. It was the first time that a conference of this kind had been held in a developing country. The conference was organized by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the World Commission on Environment and Development (WCED). The conference was attended by representatives of 178 countries, including all the major world powers. The conference was a landmark event in the history of international relations, as it was the first time that all the major world powers had met together to discuss the future of the planet.
