THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO is a private research university in Chicago, Illinois. It was founded in 1837 as the first American university to be organized on the basis of the European research university model. The university is known for its commitment to academic excellence and its diverse student body.

The university is organized into several divisions, including the Division of the Physical Sciences, the Division of the Biological Sciences, the Division of the Social Sciences, and the Division of the Humanities. Each division is further divided into individual departments and programs.

The university is also known for its commitment to public service and its many community-based programs. The University of Chicago Press is one of the largest academic publishers in the world.

The university is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU) and the Association of Research Universities (ARU). It is also a member of the Ivy League and the Big Ten Conference.
