

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON ECONOMIC RECOVERY AND GROWTH

The International Conference on Economic Recovery and Growth is a biennial event that brings together leading economists, policymakers, and scholars from around the world to discuss the latest research and developments in the field of economic recovery and growth.

The conference is organized by the International Economic Association (IEA) and the International Labour Office (ILO). The IEA is a non-governmental organization that promotes international economic cooperation and research. The ILO is a specialized agency of the United Nations that deals with issues of employment, social security, and labor rights.

The conference is held in a different city each year. The 2023 conference will be held in Singapore, Singapore. The 2024 conference will be held in Tokyo, Japan. The 2025 conference will be held in Seoul, South Korea.

The conference is a major event in the international economic calendar. It provides a unique opportunity for economists and policymakers to share their views and ideas on the latest research and developments in the field of economic recovery and growth. The conference is also a valuable platform for networking and collaboration among economists and policymakers from different countries.

The conference is open to all economists and policymakers who are interested in the field of economic recovery and growth. The conference is held in a different city each year. The 2023 conference will be held in Singapore, Singapore. The 2024 conference will be held in Tokyo, Japan. The 2025 conference will be held in Seoul, South Korea.

The conference is a major event in the international economic calendar. It provides a unique opportunity for economists and policymakers to share their views and ideas on the latest research and developments in the field of economic recovery and growth. The conference is also a valuable platform for networking and collaboration among economists and policymakers from different countries.

