The image shows a visual representation of a repeating pattern. It consists of five identical groups of four squares arranged horizontally. Each group is a rectangle made of four smaller squares. To the right of the fifth group, there are three small black dots, which serve as a separator for the next part of the sequence.

The diagram consists of two rows of binary digits. The top row contains four groups of binary digits separated by vertical lines. The first group has 3 digits (010), the second has 4 digits (1010), the third has 5 digits (01010), and the fourth has 6 digits (101010). A vertical colon is positioned after the third group. The bottom row contains three similar groups of binary digits. The first group has 3 digits (010), the second has 4 digits (1010), and the third has 5 digits (01010).

The diagram consists of six horizontal rows of binary digits (0s and 1s). The first row has 4 digits, the second has 5, the third has 6, and the fourth has 7. A vertical ellipsis (colon) is positioned between the fourth and fifth rows. The sixth and seventh rows each have 8 digits.
