Unemployment (or joblessness) occurs when people are without work and actively seeking work." The Bureau of Labour Statistics (BLS) defines unemployment as - 'people who are without work, but are actively seeking work; people who are without work, but are not actively seeking work are classified as not in the labour force' (BLS, 2018). Unemployment is a state of being without work, but actively seeking work. It is a condition that can affect anyone, regardless of their age, gender, or race. Unemployment is a complex issue that can have a significant impact on an individual's life. It can lead to financial hardship, loss of self-esteem, and social isolation. Unemployment can also affect an individual's mental health, leading to depression and anxiety. Unemployment is a global issue that affects millions of people every year. It is a challenge that governments and society as a whole must address.
