The diagram illustrates a subtraction problem using a grid of squares. The top row shows a sequence of 40 empty squares, divided into four groups of 10 by vertical lines. The second group from the left has a small minus sign written above it. The bottom row shows the same sequence of 40 squares, but the 15 squares in the second group are filled with black dots, representing the subtrahend. The difference is 25 squares, which are also filled with black dots in the bottom row. The first group of 10 squares and the third and fourth groups of 10 squares are empty in the bottom row, corresponding to the first and last groups of 10 squares in the top row.
