

World Bank Tobacco Taxation in South East Asia (with a special focus on Bangladesh)

The World Bank is pleased to announce the publication of this report, which is the first in a series of reports on tobacco taxation in South East Asia. The report is the result of a joint effort by the World Bank and the Bangladesh Tobacco Taxation Study Group. It provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of tobacco taxation in the region and offers recommendations for reform.

The report is organized into four main sections. The first section provides an overview of the tobacco market in South East Asia, including the volume of production and consumption, and the current state of taxation. The second section provides a detailed analysis of the tobacco tax system in Bangladesh, including the current tax rates, the structure of the tax system, and the impact of the tax system on the economy and public health. The third section provides a comparative analysis of tobacco taxation in other South East Asian countries, and the fourth section offers recommendations for reform. The report is a valuable resource for policymakers and researchers interested in tobacco taxation in South East Asia.

The report is the result of a joint effort by the World Bank and the Bangladesh Tobacco Taxation Study Group. The study group was established in 2001 and has since conducted extensive research on tobacco taxation in Bangladesh. The report is the first in a series of reports on tobacco taxation in South East Asia. It provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of tobacco taxation in the region and offers recommendations for reform. The report is a valuable resource for policymakers and researchers interested in tobacco taxation in South East Asia.

The report is available in English and Bengali. It is available for purchase from the World Bank Publications Department. The report is also available for free download from the World Bank website. For more information, please contact the World Bank Publications Department.
